FITTING GUIDE

FRAME PROTECTION TAPE, 5 CM × 5 M

Clear PVC film on a roll, cut to the length you need: 5 metres, a whole bike with some left over for the season. Invisible once fitted, as long as it goes on a clean frame.

REF. RUBAN5CMX5M · 5 CM × 5 M · CLEAR PVC

Before fitting

- Where: under the down tube, on the drive-side chainstay, on the head tube where the cables rub, where a bike rack rests, on an e-bike battery.
- How much: 60 to 70 cm for the down tube, 40 cm for the chainstay, 30 cm for the head tube. The 5 cm width covers the exposed face of a road or gravel tube; for large tubes, the 7 cm tape covers more.
- With what: scissors, isopropyl alcohol, a clean cloth, a plastic card, a hair dryer.

Fitting, step by step

1. Clean and degrease the area with isopropyl alcohol, then let it dry completely. Nothing sticks to a trace of mud or wax.
2. Measure and cut the length with scissors. Round the corners: a rounded corner lifts less than a sharp one.
3. Lay one end, backing peeled a few centimetres, in line with the tube, then unroll slowly while removing the backing as you go, without stretching the film.
4. Smooth from the centre to the edges with your fingers or the card, in overlapping strokes, to push the air out. Finish with the ends.
5. On a curve, warm it gently with the hair dryer, at a distance, and smooth: the PVC follows the shape without creasing. Allow 24 h before washing or riding in the rain.

IF SOMETHING GOES WRONG

- Air bubble: prick it with a needle and push the air towards the hole.
- Lifting edge: greasy or cold area. Clean under the edge with alcohol, press, let it cure.
- Dull film after seasons in the sun: warm it gently, pull slowly, fit a new strip.

DON'T

- No fitting on chipped paint, in cold weather or on a damp frame: the adhesive does not grab.
